SENATE GETS WAGE AND PRICE BILL

Nazis Ignore Losses in Smash at Stalingrad

RUSSIANS GIVE GROUND, BUT STILL FIGHT ON

Hitler Pours Tanks and New Reserves Into Battle for Red Industrial City.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Sept. 14 — Fresh hordes of Nazi troops smashed today at the approaches to Stalingrad in an obvious all-out effort to take the city whatever the cost in blood, but the Russians said that after yielding precious ground the Red army halted and pushed back a new penetration southwest of the city.

Both to the west and southwest the Germans poured tanks and armored cars and the new reserves into the bloody struggle, but the mid-day communique indicated the Russians were holding.

Earlier the Russians reported the capture by the Germans of an unidentified "populated place" southwest of Stalingrad. From all reports it was apparent that the crucial test for the beleaguered city was at hand.

(The German high command announced Sunday that German troops were fighting in the southern streets of Stalingrad and that siege lines about the city had been tightened.)

Halt Tank Advance

A Soviet tank detachment was credited with halting a German penetration southwest of Stalingrad.

West of the city too the Russians were held on the defensive by masses of troops and tank forces.

In London, the Germans were reported to be making intense preparations for a strongly-fortified winter line in Russia even while the terrific frontal assault on Stalingrad continues. Behind this line Hitler apparently hopes to regroup, rest and re-equip his badly mauled forces.

First disclosure of Hitler's winter plans, which he promised in his reichstag address last April, was the axis announcement of the appointment of Generals Franz Halder Jacob and Wietersheim to establish an impregnable line and clothe axis troops against the ravages of the Russian winter.

In the central Caucasus, the Russians said their forces in the Mozdok sector had halted the German drive toward the Grozny oil fields but that the Nazis were bringing up strong reinforcements and that a new assault was expected momentarily.

Field dispatches said Soviet marines had been brought into action on this inland front and had played a big part in stopping the enemy.

News was lacking on action along the Black sea coast south of fallen Novorossisk where the Germans were believed feeling Russian strength preparation to a thrust down the coastal road to the oil port of Batum.

At the northern end of the front the Red army offensive continued in the Volkhov sector toward the rail town of Sinyavino. This fighting was taking place in heavily fortified zones where the Nazis have been entrenched for almost a year.

The Red army was fighting hand-to-hand over a broad area west and southwest of Stalingrad, Pravda said in a front dispatch. German air units which went up to bomb the Russians were forced to turn back when it became obvious that bombing of the massive close-quarter struggle below would destroy Germans as well as Russians, it was reported. Pravda said their present battles were as bloody as any so far experienced.

A bitter fight apparently has developed in the Sinyovino area east of Leningard where the Russians seem to be trying to ease the position of Leningrad in preparation for the second winter of siege.

The high command announced that Soviet forces had "smashed strong enemy defenses and occupied a populated place" in this region despite a German counterattack.

At Voronezh, on the Don river some [illegible] miles northwest of Stalingrad, the Germans launched an offensive with one infantry division supported by 100 tanks but in a severe fight which developed on the western bank of the river 2,000 German officers and men were killed or wounded, the Soviet information bureau said.

Front dispatches said the Russians ordered to hold Stalingrad or die defending it, were clinging to every pillbox in the defense chain until hope was gone and then storming out to grapple hand-to-hand with the Germans

JAPS AT BAY IN NEW GUINEA

Allied Troops Halt Advance on Port Moresby as Planes Bomb Enemy.

By The Associated Press

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, Sept. 14 — Allied forces held the Japanese invader at bay 40 miles north of Port Moresby for the fourth successive day yesterday while medium bombers dropped 17 tons of bombs on the Japanese base and airfield at Lae and Flying Fortresses attacked three enemy merchant ships and a cruiser off New Guinea, a communique said today.

General MacArthur reported patrols active on both sides in the Owen Stanley mountain region where the Japanese have been stalled in their attempted advance on Port Moresby, but the situation "remains unchanged."

In the air war against shipping, one allied bomb blew the stern off a Japanese vessel near Seloe island in the Tanimbar island group between Australia and New Guinea and she was left sinking, the communique said.

Another ship was attacked with machinegun fire in the same raid. Farther north, off the Kai islands, still another Japanese ship was bombed with unknown result."

Flying fortresses found a Japanese cruiser and destroyer southeast of New Britain on the eastern side of New Guinea and attacked it despite poor weather conditions and intense anti-aircraft fire. Results could not be seen. All the fortresses returned safely.

Allied medium bombers attacked Lae twice within a few minutes and the 17 tons of bombs dumped on the base destroyed two heavy Japanese bombers and started fires, the communique said. Another bomber unit attacked the base at Salamaua. Lae and Salamaua are the two main Japanese bases on New Guinea.

BRITISH AND RUSSIAN BOMBERS HIT AXIS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 14—British and Russian bombers, delivering a new twin blow to the flanks of the axis, smashed at the northwest German port of Bremen last night in a RAF attack probably hundreds of planes strong, and raided Bucharest and the Ploesti oil region of Rumania from bases deep in Russia.

Lone flying British bombers were back over northwestern Germany again at dawn in follow-up attacks, the air ministry reported, announcing a total loss of 18 British bombers.

The air ministry said the 100th attack of the war on Bremen was delivered by a "very strong force," a phrase which was taken here to indicate that bombers by the hundreds were used.

Returning pilots said they unloaded their tons of explosives over the Weser river port by the light of raging fires whose red glow they could see for 100 miles on their flight back to base.

WAR OUTPUT LAGS, U. S. TOLD BY PRESIDENT

Says Civilian Economy Must Be Stripped to Bone in Lend-Lease Report.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 — President Roosevelt told congress today that the United States was producing only a little more than 50 per cent of its maximum possible war production and solemnly warned:

"Not until we have reached the maximum—and we can do this only by stripping our civilian economy to the bone—can our fighting men and those of our allies be assured of the vastly greater quantities of weapons required to turn the tide.

"Not until then can the United Nations march forward together to certain victory."

The President's statement was in a letter transmitting the sixth quarterly lend-lease report in which he spoke of Britain as an "offensive base." The report showed such aid to the British commonwealth of nations and 35 other countries during the 18 months since the program began totaled $6,489,000,000, with actual exports amounting to $3,525,000,000. In same time lend-lease countries purchased $5,800,000,000 worth of goods, including munitions, from this country.

Eight Billion a Year

Lend-lease help is now being provided at the rate of $8,000,000,000 a year, with the maximum aid possible under 15 separate appropriation acts reaching almost $63,000,000,000.

At present, the report said, about 35 per cent of lend-lease exports were going to the United Kingdom, 35 per cent to Russia, and 30 per cent to the Middle East, Australia and other areas.

"Aid to China," it was added, "has been limited by the difficulty of transportation, but the development of other means of transportation will relieve this situation."

The President said in his letter that deliveries of lend-lease goods, "which have been growing, will have to grow much larger still."

"We and the other United Nations need all the weapons that all of us can produce and all the men that all of us can muster," he added.

Compared with their available resources, he said, Britain and Russia had produced more weapons than the United States.

"And they are continuing to produce to the limit," he asserted, "in spite of the fact that

Marion Soldier Suffers Skull Fracture in Accident.

Sgt. Harold Denzer, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Denzer of 360 East Center street, is in a hospital at Beumont, Texas, suffering a fractured skull received when the truck in which he was riding with a detail of soldiers overturned as they were enroute from a camp in Louisiana to one in Texas.

Word of their son's injury was received by Mr. and Mrs. Denzer in a telegram from Lieut. Edward Malewitz, late Saturday night. In a call to the hospital at Beaumont they were told the extent of his injuries and after learning that space was not available in planes leaving from nearby cities, Mr. Denzer left early yesterday morning by train for Beaumont.

Sgt. Denzer, who will be 23 years old Dec. 22, this year, is with an Army Signal Reporting Company. He entered service Oct. 21, last year, shortly after his graduation from Ohio Wesleyan university.

Kenton Man's Plane Crashes On Highway Near Marion

Two Fliers Escape Injury in Mishap Just West of Airport; Phone Lines Torn Down.

Two Kenton and Lima men, escaped uninjured when their plane was demolished in a crash at 1:50 p. m. yesterday into Route 30-S, a short distance west of Marion.

It was the second crash near here in the last few days. Last Wednesday one army man was fatally injured and other suffered serious injuries when one of a flight of seven planes crashed in a ditch at the south side of the airport.

A. A. Freeman, manager of the airport, said this morning he was of the opinion Marion needed a larger airport. He would not enlarge on the statement other than to say that yesterday's accident might not have occurred if there had been a longer runway which would have given the pilot a chance to gain more altitude.

Phone Lines Ripped

In the crash the plane tore down 34 Ohio Associated Telephone Co. wires on the south side of the highway, 33 of which were local lines and one a fire alarm line to the city water plant.

The plane, a 40-horsepower Taylorcraft, flying from Lima, stopped at the Marion airport for refueling. It was piloted by the owner, Emerson Porter of Kenton, and with him was R. C. Woods of Lima, a member of the Lima squadron of the civil air patrol.

Mr. Freeman said Mr. Porter told him he thought he became caught in a down draft which carried the plane into the telephone wires. After cutting the wires, the plane turned around and made a three-point landing on the highway, except that it was the nose and the wheels that hit the road instead of the wheels and landing gear. The plane was headed back towards the port when it came to a stop.

The accident occurred about a quarter of a mile north of the north edge of the airport and was seen by Mr. Freeman, who immediately got into his plane and flew over the crashed craft. Seeing that the two men were out of the plane and all right, he flew back to the airport and drove his car to the scene.

Traffic Regulated

One-way traffic was possible and members of the Marion squadron of the civil air patrol assisted state patrolmen in keeping vehicular traffic moving. At no time was traffic blocked, Mr. Freeman and the patrol reported.

Members of the CAP succeeded in shoving the plane along the highway to a road that runs past the gravel pit and managed to get it back to the airport without hitching on a tractor, or loading it onto a truck.

Mr. Freeman called the Columbus headquarters of the CAP for permission to move the plane from the scene of the crash to the airport.

Plane Wrecked

He said this morning that the plane was damaged beyond repair. Both wings, the front end of the fuselage and the motor were smashed and although the plane landed on its wheels and nose and did not overturn, all parts of it were thrown out of line by the crash.

Mr. Porter and Mr. Woods called a Kenton friend and were taken home by automobile last night.

The telephone company reported this morning that a crew of four men worked a half-day making repairs to the lines, and that all lines were in service by early yesterday evening.

Marion City Schools Open Today With Enrollment of 5,585, Increase of 115

Several Buildings Report Gains Senior Class Total Falls Below Year Ago.

Marion public schools opened this morning with an increase of 115 over last year and indications that the opening enrollment of 5,585 will increase to around the 5,700 mark by Friday.

The 1942-43 school year opened with everything operating smoothly, Supt. E. E. Holt said.

A year ago on the opening day the total enrollment was 5,470.

A marked increase was shown in first grade registrations, a jump from 548 last year to 628 today.

At Harding High school the senior enrollment dropped to 327 today as compared with 355 on the opening day last year. Drops in high school are "just a trend" which has been felt for the last several years, the superintendent said.

Study Enrollments

Whether the increased enrollment is due to the influx of war workers will be known definitely upon study of a survey of the registration cards, on which is designated the work in which the parents are engaged.

The superintendent said he felt "no doubt" that war conditions have something to do with enrollment increases.

The junior enrollment at Harding today was 368, one over the opening day last year, and the sophomore class showed an increase from 394 last year to 404.

While the gross enrollment over last year, is not so great, there are spots where it may be necessary to employ one or more additional teachers unless district adjustments can be made, the superintendent said.

Gains Listed

Some of the "spot" increases were anticipated and adjustments were made but some of the developments today included a jump from 304 last year to 350 this morning at the Pearl Street school, a first grade enrollment of 101 at the Oakland Heights building where the total was 73 last year, and an increase from 224 to [illegible] at the Olney avenue building. The Mark Street enrollment increased from [illegible] to [illegible] and at the Oak Street school 67 youngsters enrolled in the first grade this morning.

AXIS REPORTS BRITISH RAID IS BEATEN OFF

Rome Says Sea Borne Force Attempted Landing at Tobruk.

By The Associated Press

ROME (from Italian broadcasts), Sept. 14—Sea-borne British troops, supported by parachutists, attempted a landing last night to pinch off the vital axis supply port of Tobruk, some 300 miles west of the Egyptian battlefront, but were beaten off by the German-Italian garrison, the Italian high command announced today.

The landing attempt, in which a force of British cruisers and destroyers participated, was preceded by a violent bombardment by a large number of RAF planes, a communique said.

Two of the British warships were reported hit by shell fire and one of the vessels was said to have sunk later.

(The Berlin radio carried a similar announcement, but there was no immediate confirmation of the reports from any allied source, the British communique from Cairo mentioning only minor air and land activity on the Egyptian front yesterday.)

Tobruk, about 75 miles west of the Egyptian frontier, has been in axis hands since June 22 and is an important supply port for Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's armies in Egypt.

The Italian announcement said: "Last night the enemy, after a prolonged air attack carried out by a large number of planes, attempted with the support of parachute troops to effect a landing from light naval units in the Tobruk area.

"Immediate intervention of Italian-German defense frustrated the attempt.

"The attempt was supported by six naval units, made up of cruisers and destroyers. Two of the enemy warships which were hit were set afire. One of them later sank."

German fighter planes destroyed two planes in air combats which accompanied the landing attempt, while axis anti-aircraft defenses shot down four more, the communique added.

The high command reported that the Italian hospital ship Arno had been torpedoed and sunk the night of Sept. 9 about 40 miles off Tobruk, although she

Four Hurt In Accident Near Waldo

Two accidents, in one of which four Delaware men were cut and bruised, and several arrests for highway traffic violations were reported today by the state highway patrol.

About midnight Saturday a car driven by Frank Pleasant of Delaware left Route 23, a mile and a half south of Waldo and plunged into the ditch, shearing off a telephone pole and coming to a stop when it struck a tree.

Mr. Pleasant, Thomas Moran, J. C. Eastep and Hulbert Flowers, all of Delaware, suffered bruises and lacerations. They were treated in Jane M. Case hospital at Delaware.

The car was virtually demolished, the patrol reported.

Accident in Prospect

Three cars were involved in an accident yesterday afternoon in Prospect.

A car owned by Miss Donna Crissinger of 145 Sharpless court and driven by H. E. Nye of the same address, stopped at an intersection, the patrol reported. Two cars following, driven by Russell L. Ilams of Galion and Marguerite Pendleton of 210 Superior street, failed to stop in time to avoid a collision. No one was injured and damage to the cars was slight, the patrol reported.

William Hall of Davids street, arrested Saturday on Route 23 north of Marion and charged with running a stop signal, posted bond for his appearance Wednesday at 10 a. m. in municipal court.

AUG. 15 FIXED AS BASIS OF SALARY SCALE

Farm Prices Not Permitted To Go Below Parity; Brown Explains Measure.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Legislation specifically authorizing President Roosevelt to stabilize wages and salaries as of August 15 and farm prices at levels not below parity was introduced today in the senate in response to the President's demand that congress act by Oct. 1 to control inflation.

Offered by Chairman Wagner (D-NY) of the banking committee and Senator Brown (D-Mich), pilot of previous administration price control legislation, the resolution would give the President broad power to deal with all other factors involved in the cost of living.

In stabilizing wages and prices, Brown said the President would be authorized to take into account substandard conditions and to correct any "gross inequities" that might arise.

Below Parity Banned

He could not, however, force agricultural prices below parity levels.

The general effect of this limitation, Brown said, would be to keep farm prices at about their present levels, since the average of these prices now is estimated at 101 per cent of parity.

In line with this idea, Brown explained, the President would be authorized to set the ceiling for agricultural commodities at the levels of a recent date so that in effect none would be placed below the top level reached this year.

The Aug. 15 date for stabilizing wages was chosen, Brown reported, because it coincides with government statistical periods. He said, however, that the date might later be changed to Sept. 15 if the senate banking committee decided this was necessary.

The measure provides for retention of all safeguards in the fair labor standards act.

Brown said he and Senator Wagner (D-NY), co-author of the bill, had found it impossible this far to perfect provisions which would place floors under wages and farm prices. He added that Chairman Steagall (D-Ala) might offer in his chamber a bill providing for a floor under farm prices.

Brown said the President's general stabilization authority would be broad enough so that he could deal with such factors as proposed utility rate increases. The general powers, he commented, would be "as broad as anybody wants them in that respect."

Finds No Opposition

He said he had explained the bill to many senators and had yet to encounter any opposition. He indicated that the tentative draft also was acceptable to the President.

Brown said the President's control over wages and salaries would be broad enough to cover pay increases given voluntarily by the employers. It would cover salaries as well as wages. The controls would not apply to applications for wage increases now pending before the war labor board.

The measure also would extend operation of the price control act for one year from June 30, 1943.

Brown explained that the new measure would contain provisions similar to those in the price control law by which the act could be suspended by a concurrent resolution of congress or by presidential proclamation.

Labor controls were added after experienced legislators became convinced that farm state lawmakers would balk at trimming price ceilings below 110 per cent of parity unless a formula for handling wages was provided too.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley, after a conference with senate and house leaders yesterday, said there was no intention of establishing price ceilings at less than parity, or the market price of a recent date, whichever was higher.

Observers noted that among those attending the conference was Senator Bankhead (D-Ala), who is a leader among farm state lawmakers and an outspoken adv-

Thousands of Feet of Lumber Transformed Daily Into Various Products for Buildings and Equipment in Scioto Project.

By BOB BYRD.

Thousands of feet of lumber are transformed [illegible] Scioto Ordnance project [illegible] area.

Carpenters are playing an [illegible] [illegible] progress—more so [illegible] [illegible] production line basis.

Out at the huge truss yard [illegible] self-supporting trusses ranging in span length up to 50 feet are built entirely on giant tables 52 feet wide and 52 feet long. They are then hauled to the building for which they were built, hoisted into place with a crane and the workers in the field have merely a job of assembling as far as the trusses are concerned.

The other central point for carpenter work is in the general [illegible]

Mr. Benreck, under whose direction this work is done, is an Ashtabula, O., man, before coming to the Scioto Power Plant worked with the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co. at Ravenna, and has been with the company for a year. He formerly operated his own construction contracting business at Ashtabula for five years and worked with other construction companies before that.

Variety of Production.

The carpenter maintenance yard near the administration area doesn't handle the giant timbers that are used in the truss yard, but the work is much more varied. This group of workers, headed by Rodney R. Underwood as general foreman, was one of the first to go into action at the ordnance plant, making portable construction sheds, mounted on skids, portable septic tank toilet units, temporary offices, and as the work progressed they made many of the tables, cabinets and racks used in the offices. Many items are made on a production basis including screens for the hundreds of windows in the office buildings, gates to be used at the various entrances, and signs used all over the area. The men cut out the signs and get them ready for the painting department.

Right now they're making gates by the dozen. More than 5,000 bolts and hundreds of feet of lumber will go into the gate job before it is finished, and it is only a comparatively small item on the carpenter maintenance yard schedule.

There are about 30 men in this yard, some of them having come here with the Hunkin-Conkey company and the others coming from Marion and nearby counties. The equipment includes five power saws and some smaller electric equipment. Plywood is fashioned into table tops and neat cabinets or racks. This material and white pine constitute the bulk of the lumber used. The finished work is trucked to all parts of the area.

The carpenters all qualify as finish carpenters and cabinet makers and their handiwork may be found in virtually every office on the area.

Example of Efficiency.

The way they make window screens is a sample of how they simplify a volume production job. The work is handled systematically and the frames go together quickly. After getting a coat of paint, the frames go across the screening table where the screen is unwound from a big spool. One of the workers uses a staple gun to fasten the screen across one end of the frame. Another worker then winds up the roll of screen in such a way that the screen is pulled tightly across the frame. The man with the staple gun then fastens down the other end, trims the screen from the roll, staples down the sides and the operation is completed. This operation is a matter of only seconds.

Portable time offices, portable tool rooms, tables and benches in the field cafeteria, bins of all sizes, bulletin boards, tables of all sizes and even chairs have come out of this yard for use all over the area.

Expert Supervision.

The carpenter maintenance yard was set up at the Scioto Ordnance Plant by Ray Carnahan, now one of the unit superintendents. He operated it until June 24 when Mr. Underwood, who had been employment manager for the Hunkin-Conkey Co. for this job up to that date, took over. Mr. Underwood was one of the first key men to come to the Scioto plant, coming here from work with Hunkin-Conkey at Ravenna where he was an assignment officer. He has been with the company two years. His home is at New Lexington, O. A nephew of Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood at Columbus, he at one time served as his uncle's private secretary when Judge Underwood was in congress. He has been in construction work a number of years. He is a graduate of the National University of Law at Washington, D. C., and at one time was an estimator for a concern making building materials such as roofing tile and rock wool.

[illegible] a scratching of a [illegible] that freedom can be bought and that [illegible] outside our gates. For the first time in many years [illegible]

There is one more reason for buying bonds. The President, who is also the commander-in-chief, has asked us to do so.

Meanwhile, while we pay later, while we are [illegible] of our [illegible] fighting men die—not only fighting men, but women and small children also. They die for a good cause, a good reason—for freedom. But we are not dying—but pay [illegible] time and money, or we shall find ourselves dishonored. The time is short. It passes and having passed is forever lost.

Men in France, in Holland, in Norway—men all over Europe are regretting time, are saying, "If only we had known."

But we do know. The writing is on the wall. Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, Singapore, Dunkirk are not dreams. They are evil things that have happened and now these things approach us. [illegible]

Time is money—but money cannot buy time, nor bring dead men to life, nor purchase freedom once it is lost.

That is why we must buy bonds now—today, and tomorrow and the day after. Buy bonds until this thing is destroyed utterly, because time is not subject to manipulation, because the past is dead and the future mortgaged, because the world cannot live half free and half slave. Now we, the free, allow the mortgage upon our freedom to be foreclosed. Failing now, we fail forever. Never before could so much be bought for so little. Never so much lost for lack of that little.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

Quick Retreat

WITH a hand steady as a mounted cannon Sandy pulled his pistol and aimed it at one of the largest stalactites hanging between the doorway and the altar. The resounding crash was like an earthquake as the tip of the stalactite toppled to the floor.

Again and again Sandy aimed and fired until the revolver was empty. Then, feeling the press of the others in the door he snatched at the first revolver he could put his hands on, shouting for all of them to shoot down the stalactites.

There followed a deafening crescendo of echoes while the stone icicles crashed among the snakes. Bewildered, the yellow-jaws writhed among the broken stone, hissing and furious but stopped, providentially, for a moment.

Then Sandy called out for the men to halt firing. "I'm going out to get her." He lifted his voice to Tyra. "Hold everything! And be ready to jump when I come."

He started into the cavern, walking upon a bridge of fallen stone, leaping from one to the other, picking his way in the light of the electric torches held by those behind. The snakes that had not been crushed under the weight of the falling stone slithered over one another, still confused by the catastrophe to them and their objective.

Once Sandy slipped into a tangle of coiling forms, but extricated himself so quickly the snakes did not have time to strike.

He reached the altar. In one movement he swooped up Tyra and tossed her over his shoulder, turning about for the run to the entrance.

It was like wading through sickening green water on a shaky bridge that might catapult you into slime any second. As he neared the door Fleming and Gil beat back the snakes with their machetes to clear the rock rubble of the menace.

Then, when Sandy was within arm's reach they pulled him in.

Tyra struggling in his arms. "Let me down, Sandy. I can walk."

She slipped to the floor and Sandy saw that she still held the reed-wrapped parcel in a vise-like grip.

"Did they get you?" he asked, fearing the answer more than he had ever feared anything in the world.

"I don't think so."

Fleming pulled the parcel from her arms. "I'll take this. We can't linger here—those Indians might try to trap us."

They began to climb the stairs. Sandy halted long enough for a last glance at the Chamber of the Serpent God. The snakes were still hissing and writhing about the broken stone, the ruby eyes of the God glittering balefully in the center.

They wasted no time in negotiating the difficult descent of the pyramid and quitting the environs of the Mayan city. They did not even speak to one another until the last of the mounds had melted into the forest gloom behind them.

Then Fleming said, "We'll have to get off this plateau now. We'd better strike camp right away. I hope this codex is worth all the trouble it's caused."

Sandy could not answer that. But he looked down at Tyra. "It's not worth the price Tyra was going to pay for it," he said.

When they reached camp the Yaqui reported that there had been no disturbance in their absence.

"Look here, Erasto," Fleming ordered. "I want you to go beyond the ruins where you'll find a path leading down to a u-shaped canyon. Conceal yourself near the place where the path comes onto the plateau, but in a position so you can watch what goes on in the canyon. If you see or hear any activity down there come back pronto and let us know. Sabe?"

The Indian nodded. "Si, you wish the Indos watched to see if they make war medicine."

"That's right, Erasto. Now vamoose!"

Fleming turned to Sandy. "Where do you want to put this precious treasure of yours?"

"I'll take it," Sandy said.

Fleming handed over the reed-wrapped parcel, but as Sandy took it in his hands the wrappings, which had not looked secure in the first place, unraveled and the whole bundle came apart in his fingers, some of it spilling to the ground.

His breath caught as he stared down at the exposed contents of the parcel. It contained nothing but dry grass and moss!

Dry grass and moss! But the codex — the manuscript that would bring light to the dark places of human history—where was it?

Dewey Leading in Opening N. Y. State Poll; Gains in Maine Seen for G.O.P.

By GEORGE GALLUP

[illegible] American Institute of Public Opinion

[illegible] N. J., Sept. 14—Republican party prospects for the [illegible] are looking up.

[illegible] key state of the Union politically Thomas E. Dew[illegible] [illegible] candidate for governor, holds a comfortable lead [illegible] opponents in the first of a series of institute polls on [illegible] which will be continued up to the day before the [illegible] fight, the first [illegible] 1944 presidential [illegible] spotlight this [illegible] the Roosevelt- [illegible] the Dewey- [illegible], and their po[illegible] for 1944. [illegible] final elections for [illegible] and congress- [illegible] give distinct en- [illegible] the Republican [illegible] the country. [illegible] interest to [illegible] because it [illegible] two months be- [illegible] the country [illegible] state's governorship race turned into a three-cornered affair when the pro-New Deal American Labor Party, dissatisfied with the candidate put up by the Democratic party, John J. Bennett, nominated a candidate of their own to run against Dewey and Bennett.

DEWEY BENNETT

As of this date—and it is still more than seven weeks until election day—the popularity of the three candidates is shown as follows in the first institute report since the nominating conventions. The campaign is just warming up, and subsequent reports will be published at regular intervals until election day to indicate the trend of sentiment.

Dewey 54%
Bennett 36
Alfange 10

In the previous governorship election (1938) the American Labor party accounted for 8 per cent of the total vote cast in the state. In that election it indorsed the Democratic candidate, Herbert H. Lehman, who beat Dewey by a narrow margin.

However, the Democratic forces can take hope from the fact that a substantial number of voters have not yet made up their minds at this early stage in the campaign. The institute's study finds that approximately one voter in every six (17 per cent) is undecided, and that most of them are voters who cast their ballots for Roosevelt in 1940.

Nevertheless, the indications at this stage are that the Democrats face a hard road ahead. Whereas Dewey and Lehman ran virtually neck and neck from start to finish of the campaign in 1938, today Dewey outpolls both his opponents.

Situation in Maine

As for the situation in Maine, interviewing conducted in the state this week indicates that today's results will highlight Republican gains, percentagewise, even in that traditionally Republican state.

So far as trend is concerned, the best test in Maine is likely to be the gubernatorial race between Gov. Sumner Seawall, the Republican incumbent, and George W. Lane, the Democrat.

On the basis of institute tests completed last week, Gov. Sewall will probably lead Lane by 2 to 1 or more.

In the senatorial race, Senator White, the Republican incumbent, will have a substantial lead over Fulton J. Redman, the Democrat.

But, percentagewise, Senator White's vote will not equal Gov. Sewall's.

Gov. Seawall's percentage is likely to be higher than it was in 1938.

Maine As a Barometer

There is little truth, of course, in the old adage that "as Maine goes, so goes the nation." In 1936, for example, despite a G. O. P. victory in Maine in September, the Republicans carried only two states in November.

However, a study of the records over the past 40 years does show that the size of the Republican majority in Maine often indicates country-wide trends.

The substantial Republican victories expected in the governorship and senatorship races in the state provide fresh evidence that the Republicans are likely to win additional seats in congress this fall.

Low Toned

STILLWATER, Okla. — The story erred typographically when it said that George Dean, radio man second class, "sunk" a baritone solo at graduation exercires for navy men here. His mates began greeting him with this parody of an epic submarine battle line: "Sighted song, sank same."

STEEL RESTRICTIONS CUT WIRE PRODUCTS

Farmers Meet Trouble in Buying Fencing.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 14—Diversion of steel to more essential uses is limiting output of some wire products "and farmers find it difficult to obtain wire fencing they need as a result of increased attention to stock raising," the magazine Steel said today.

"With an abundant hay crop, they also are met by a shortage of bale wires," the trade publication continued.

Delivery promises on current orders for finished steel are vague, and "plate orders are entirely under allocations, with nothing definite known until allotments are issued each month. Bars and shapes are scarce, particularly bars, with deliveries on even the higher rated tonnages so extended that definite promises are all but impossible. In sheets it is doubtful if anything can be done under seven or eight weeks on even the highest priority."

Production held last week at 98 per cent of estimated national ingot capacity. The Pittsburgh district climbed 1 point to 95 per cent and Detroit 7 to 93; Cleveland fell 2 points to 94½ per cent, Wheeling 3 to 90 and Cincinnati 4 to 91, while Youngstown was unchanged at 97.

Reading Circle Books Offered

Ohio Teachers' List of Volumes Available at Marion Public Library.

The Ohio Teachers' reading circle books are available at the Marion public library, Miss Helen Kramer announced today. The list includes "Latin America," James; "Economic Development of the American Nation," McGrane; "Guiding Child Development in the Elementary School," Macomber; "Guidance in Democratic Living," Hollingshead; "Don't Be Afraid," Cowles; "Social Studies and the American Way of Life," Wrightstone; "Practical School Discipline and Mental Hygiene," Cutts; "The Flickering Torch," Tomlinson; "General Douglas MacArthur," Miller; "The World We Want To Live In," Church.

"Latin America" is a basic text for use in courses in regional or economic geography of Latin America, and covers both South America and Middle America. It also can be used to advantage in courses in Latin-American history or Latin-American commercial relations.

In his book, "The Economic Development of the American Nation" Professor McGrane presents a vivid, yet concise and well-integrated picture of the growth of America from a weak group of colonies to a nation possessing colossal power. The author is a Ph.D. of the University of Chicago and for a number of years taught economic history in the department of business administration and in the College of Liberal Arts of the University of Chicago.

"Guidance in Democratic Living" is the first book in education to translate the philosophy of democracy and modern theories of learning into actual classroom situations and teaching techniques and to emphasize socialization as a major objective of education. The author sets up no new course but indicates that the achievement of democracy and socialization is the outcome of the whole school program.

The author of "Don't Be Afraid," is director of the Park Avenue Hospital and of the Body and Mind Foundation in New York; is a staff physician and psychiatrist of the Bloodgood Cancer Foundation, Johns Hopkins university and is the author of several technical monographs.

An authentic life story in text and pictures is the Miller book on General Douglas MacArthur, fighter for freedom. The book contains stories of the fighter's days at West Point, his struggle to build the Philippine Island defenses, his valor in World War I and his present achievements.

Tomlinson, author of "Time Out To Live," presents a penetrating appraisal of what we in America call freedom in his book, "The Flickering Torch." For many years the author was an executive in one of America's important industrial organizations and was an officer in the U. S. naval service during the first World war. Today he is a counselor in public relations and an active leader in numerous civic undertakings in and about the city of Philadelphia.

There is no need to rule out the traditional Bake Day in your household just because you are running a little low on sugar. You can turn out some very good home baked specials by using substitute sweets or small amounts of sugar.

Don't forget, however, that it is especially important to follow recipe directions closely when using most of the alternate sweeteners.

PINEAPPLE COFFEE CAKE: Mix together 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 2/3 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon sugar. Add 5 tablespoons fat and mix until crumbly. Add egg beaten into a cup of milk and pour into greased, shallow baking pan. Cover with topping made like this: Mix together 4 tablespoons soft butter, ¼ cup dark brown sugar, ½ cup drained crushed pineapple, 4 tablespoons honey and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Quickly spread over soft dough and bake 25 minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm with butter.

DIXIE DROPS: Mix 2/3 cup fat with ½ cup dark brown or white sugar. Add 1 egg, ¾ cup molasses, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon cloves or mace, 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 2/3 cup chopped raisins, currants or washed dried prunes and ½ cup sour milk or buttermilk. Chill the dough and then drop portions from spoon onto greased baking sheets and bake 12 minutes in a moderate oven. These soft cookies will keep moist a week if stored in covered jar.

PEANUT COOKIES: Cream ½ cup fat with 1 cup corn syrup, add 2 eggs, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 cup chopped roasted peanuts. Lightly mix in 2 cups flour and 3 teaspoons baking powder. Chill the dough and drop portions from tip of spoon onto greased baking sheets and bake 10 minutes in moderate oven. If salted peanuts are used reduce the amount of salt to ¼ teaspoon.

ORANGE MARMALADE puts the sweetness in this appetizing loaf—a quick bread for any meal. Tasty Uses for Cheese

By ALICE DENHOFF

PLAN TO SERVE cheese frequently and to use it as a cooking ingredient.

Meal planners who serve cheese aid the nation in two ways. First they provide their families with a highly nutritious, concentrated dairy food. Second, they help maintain the dairy farmer's market and so assure the production of a food vital to our allies and to ourselves.

Cheese for Dessert

To offset serving desserts that use up a goodly part of the sugar ration, do the smart thing—serve a cheese tray and fruit. Diners will thank you for this idea and for a dessert that is always in the best of taste.

The guest cheese tray should include some mild cheese and some snappy cheese. There should be a variety of texture too, with slices of firm cheese such as American, and some soft, creamy kind.

Late summer fruits such as pears, grapes and plums add color and interesting flavor contrasts to the cheese tray. And different crackers lend it additional interest.

If you have guests coming for supper or a snack serve them a grand variation of the popular Welsh Rarebit. For 8 portions, melt one pound American cheddar type cheese in a chafing dish or in the top of a double boiler [illegible]

We Kept Faith in Russia

L[illegible] greater support to Russia [illegible]. They [illegible] agree, [illegible] of the [illegible]

In [illegible] it must be remembered that missions from England, France and the United States were in Moscow [illegible] at the very moment that Stalin and Hitler were signing their non-aggression pact.

When Hitler attacked Russia there was no [illegible] the United Nations to come to the aid of the [illegible] but there was a very practical [illegible] fighting the common enemy.

Missions from the United States and England again returned to Moscow and gave pledges of aid. These pledges have been kept. Last reports told the world that in spite of the staggering difficulties of transportation and the long haul [illegible], the supplies promised to Russia have been delivered on time.

Russia has wanted no contributions of manpower. She has even rejected the practice, [illegible] among nations allied in war, of the [illegible] military [illegible] of friendly nations into the active zones. Russia, for reasons of her own, has elected to play the game [illegible] with only aid in munitions and materials. These have been furnished.

Russia is [illegible]. She has lost battles [illegible] to Hitler [illegible] no army can afford to pay, but she has not lost the war. Already autumn rains are falling and winter, the spectre [illegible] the invader, is just ahead.

Perhaps with a little more help, a few more planes to protect the [illegible], Russia might have held the Nazis at the Don and the Kuban. That is something over which the tacticians may wrangle. On the question of good faith of the other United Nations there is no ground for debate. They have kept their promises of material aid. There remains no more reason why Moscow or any other source, domestic or foreign, has a right to demand the opening of a second front before the United Nations' high command is ready for the war's greatest venture.

Phony Patriotism

CASH redemption of War Bonds is running around $25,000,000 a month, not a high figure in view of sales 40 times as great but still too much for a nation straining every effort to finance the war.

Part of this probably comes from necessity and the redemption feature was written into the bonds so that an owner, faced suddenly with financial emergency, might find relief. It was an expression of the nation's confidence in the good faith of its people.

Part of the sales come, however, from phony patriotism and a love of being a showoff. Some have bought bonds to impress their employers and associates only to cash in their investment in America at the first opportunity.

The American who fails to buy War Bonds is a slacker. The one who buys them and then redeems them except in dire necessity is a fraud, a cheat, a phony patriot and a generally no-good citizen who ought to duck up an alley and hide every time he sees a uniform.

Wake Us Up

THERE are many indications that the American people are not yet awake to the war and what it means. Millions of tons of scrap lie in backyards while furnaces go hungry, millions of dollars are wasted that [illegible] to go into War Bonds, good citizens try [illegible] and influence on their rationing and gas boards.

Things are in the making to wake us up. Universal gas rationing, taxes boosted until they hurt, deeper digging into manpower for the army, shortage of many of the things we have looked upon as necessities.

These things which we look upon as hardships of the moment are blessings if they awaken the people to their responsibility. When something makes America buckle down to the last measure of effort and real sacrifice we will really be on the road to that eventual victory which must be won before there can be any return to the full, free and easy life we enjoyed before Pearl Harbor.

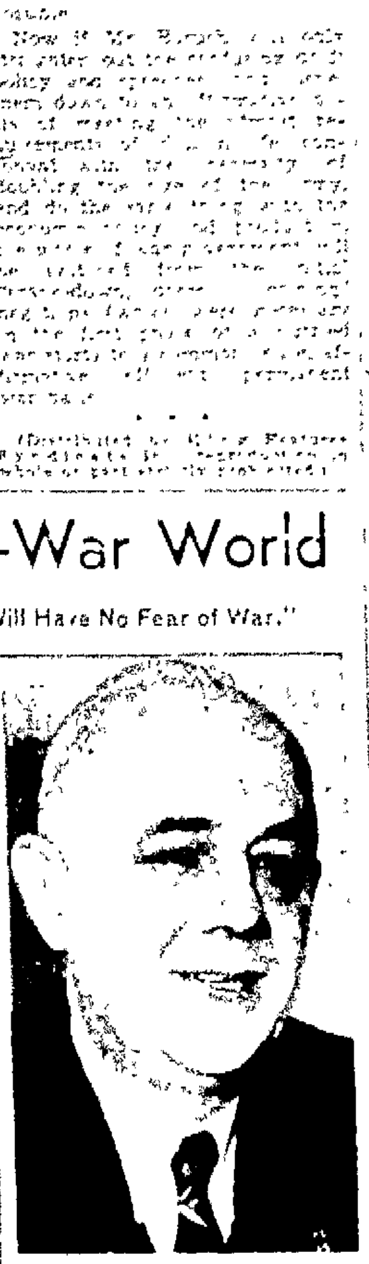
Planning Post-War World

Dykstra Says: "Free World Will Have No Fear of War."

By C. A. DYKSTRA

President of the University of Wisconsin



C. A. DYKSTRA

NATIONS go to war or find themselves at war for a variety of reasons which satisfy them. At the same time it is doubtless true that the vast majority of the citizens of these same nations unquestionably prefer peace to war. Even in democratic societies where there is opportunity for public opinion to determine national policy and even there is normally an anti-war sentiment, there comes from time to time involvement in war.

It is difficult, therefore, to consider war and peace as separate ideas or even as antithetical under certain circumstances. Assuredly Americans did not want war and many were opposed to preparation for war under the assumption that we need not have war if we willed against it. And yet, we have it, and Americans are overwhelmingly for prosecuting war to the hilt even if it takes all that we have in human and natural resources for the duration.

Positive Problem

The problem of the post war world is not negative but positive—not a declaration in avoidance of war but a constructive policy of dynamic peace. Those who have been making war in recent years have had a program which could be carried out only through war. No peace program will have a chance of success unless it requires peace even if peace has to be enforced.

We come then to the question as to what will make for peaceful living and a minimum of contention and friction. Only through cooperation can we reduce such contention. Firing squads can not do it.

Nations attempt in one way or another to work out what they call "manifest destiny." This will be done peacefully, if possible, but by war, if necessary. How can this manifest destiny idea be lifted out of the domain of competition and exploitation as among nations and put upon a universal or planetary basis? How shall we satisfy the needs of individuals and nations and persuade them that what people and peoples want can be attained without the losses and destruction attendant upon war? How can we substitute an understanding of history for the hysteria that affects so many from time to time?

What Men Want

Such questions bring us face to face with some attempt to determine what things men want so badly that they are willing, when they lose hope, to fight for them. Put categorically these things are some measure of economic and social security, some guarantee of civil and political rights and privileges, the possibility of expanding and developing the individual's personality and cultural, and spiritual opportunity, the right to participate in decisions, which affect society, the right of access to the natural resources of the earth and some freedom of movement and communication. They also want good health, wholesome recreation and the good will and appreciation of their fellows. Mankind does not relish being ill housed, ill clothed and ill fed and the things that go along with such conditions.

It must be apparent then that any organized effort to guarantee a world of peaceful peoples must take into account these fundamental and universal desires. There must be free and complete opportunity for all peoples, races, and religions. There can be no discrimination against any of these for there must be dignity and respect for everybody.

What then, shall be the pattern of organization for such a world? Each of us doubtless has a favorite device. We must be satisfied for a time to get a foothold on the lowest rung of the ladder and climb from there. The climb may be halting and long but if we persist in climbing and making progress toward the goals set up and if we can prevent any backsliding on a wide scale, the day of freedom for all will come.

Civil Air Patrol Tops in Defense Groups

By Jack Stinnett

WITHOUT fear of contradiction from the army, navy or war councils, it may be said that the Civil Air Patrol is hanging up the most remarkable record of any of the civilian defense groups.

There now are nearly 53,000 volunteers in the CAP; probably close to 15,000 planes; perhaps 25,000 pilots and almost an equal number of mechanics, radio engineers, and sundry office and air base ground workers. Their story can't be half told until this war is over. Wartime censorship has the CAP coastal patrol wrapped in clouds. A dozen other phases of CAP activity are behind the veil of military secrecy—but the stories that can be written are exciting enough.

CAP pilots are more completely "on the record" than those in military air forces. Their cards on file in Washington are masterpieces of individual case histories. There is hardly a thing in their professional, amateur, public and private lives that is overlooked. Their records go into one of those incomprehensible sorting machines.

The other day, the army called Maj. Earl L. Johnson, CAP national commander. "We need," said the general on the line, "30 pilots between 35 and 45 who can fly twin-motored planes, have had 2,000 hours in the air, and are willing to serve somewhere in the Orient."

Major Johnson passed the word along. The keys of the magic sorting machine were punched and out came more than 400 CAP pilots who filled the bill. The major called the army back. The general said simply: "Pick 30, enlist them as captains and wire me for orders and transportation."

That request of the CAP was all tailwind and a yard wide. Take the one, for example, that came through recently for four pilots who had more than 2,000 hours in the air, could fly twin motor planes and amphibians, and could speak Spanish fluently. The sorting machine did its work and up came 18. The four pilots are now serving "somewhere south of the Rio Grande."

MAJOR JOHNSON likes to chuckle over the request he got from one army air unit. The officer in charge explained "Regulations require that we have a chaplain. We are constantly on the move. Do you think you could find us a 'flying parson'?"

The CAP gave him his choice of 14 "sky pilots"—fourteen ministers who could play tag-along in their own planes from Australia to Iceland and never miss a prayer meeting.

(Note: There is one big indication of just how much the army thinks of the CAP. It's the only civilian organization on the books that is allowed to wear THE uniform of the U. S. army. It's the only organization anywhere that is allowed to wear the wing and propellor emblem of the army air corps. The CAP emblems are in silver—the air corps in gold. No other units outside the armed forces can wear the "U. S." which appears on the shoulders of CAP men. CAP members wear red shoulder loops—almost the only distinguishing feature to the average civilian eye, but one which lends color and a snap to the uniform in the opinion of the men who wear them.)

The air raid drills are getting a little monotonous in many cities. Almost any honest civilian defense official will tell you that is one of the commonest complaints he hears.

But from now on, it's a complaint that will be heard much less often in many sections. The Civil Air Patrol is providing the "kicker" that takes all the dullness out of them.

This Week in the Sky

(Prepared especially for this page by The Hayden Planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History in New York City.)

THIS WEEK, the moon will be coming up through the first quarter and waxing on toward full. The quarter moon will be on the night of the 17th, Thursday evening. The observer who wishes to see the planets will have still to look in the morning sky where Jupiter and Saturn will be found, being joined by Venus a little before sunrise.

On the 15th, Mercury will be above the horizon in the evening sky, but as it sets less than an hour after the sun, it will require a very keen observer with a clear western horizon to spot the elusive little planet. The telescope setting on this night, for those who have circle equipped instruments, is R.A. 13h 03' Dec. 09 degrees 27'.

There are a certain few constellations which mark our seasons and which serve as very constellations which mark our seasons and which serve as very convenient signposts in the sky. By knowing these few, almost any other star group can be found in reference to them.

In the late summer sky, the Great Square of Pegasus is the seasonal landmark. If this striking star group has escaped your attention, it would be very well worth the time to look at a star chart and note the position of the Great Square. It is so clear and brilliant an object, a glance will serve to identify it. The star in the square nearest the north does double duty, incidentally; it also serves as part of the constellation of Andromeda.

Grand Street Boys

Charitable Club Is Symbolic of New York's Inexplicable Way of Doing Big Jobs Like Nobody Else.

By DAMON RUNYON

A FAMOUS [illegible] organization of New York [illegible] and one that probably symbolizes [illegible] the big town more than any other [illegible] Grand Street Boys association.

[illegible] members are not boys at all, at [illegible] the organization is [illegible] Grand Street [illegible] but in a fine clubhouse [illegible] West 55th street, yet even this is highly [illegible] of the [illegible] way things are arranged [illegible] the [illegible] of Manhattan island [illegible] a Madison Square Garden a couple of [illegible] from Madison Square.

The Grand Street Boys' association was founded over 2[illegible] years ago by a group of [illegible] who knew each other as kids on New York's lower east side and it was named for Grand street because that was the Fifth avenue of the [illegible]. Department stores like Lord & Taylor, [illegible] Hurrman's and many fine [illegible] were located there though you might not [illegible] from the present aspect of the community.

The late Judge Max S. Levine of the court of general sessions, a celebrated jurist of his time, was the first president. After his death [illegible] the vice president took over [illegible] Judge Jonah J. Goldstein, who has [illegible] president [illegible] seven years and has led [illegible] to the peak of prosperity and [illegible]

JUDGE GOLDSTEIN is one of our most [illegible] Manhattan [illegible], a great lawyer, [illegible] judge of general sessions, a [illegible]. He is famous for his interest and [illegible] in charitable enterprises [illegible] regardless of creed or color. He has [illegible] the budget of the Grand Street boys and [illegible] about improvements in their club [illegible] one of the finest establishments [illegible] in the country.

The association numbers about 1500 members who pay but $1[illegible] per year dues with no assessments [illegible]. It is essentially a [illegible] organization and its membership includes men in all walks of life. [illegible] member, the late [illegible] Cardinal Hayes, who belonged to the club [illegible] years. David Sarnoff, Bill Robinson, [illegible] Irving Berlin, Governor Lehman, Al Smith and Mayor LaGuardia are among the members.

It sponsors amateur athletics and has teams that [illegible] recognition as the foremost non-sectarian athletic organization in the country. It has produced scores of great stars in almost every field of sport. It sponsors a fife, drum and bugle corps, contributes to camps for underprivileged children, endows beds at [illegible] hospitals and contributes to institutions of all descriptions.

SINCE [illegible] into the war, the clubhouse has been used by every unit and branch of civilian defense, Red Cross, first aid and USO activities without cost to any of the welfare departments. It has set up a Grand Street Boys' hostel in London for the care and assistance of mothers and children recuperating from the bombings. This was accomplished through a distinguished member, Sir Louis Sterling.

The club sent a large sum of money to establish the hostel, and continues its support. The opening of the hostel got a raft of publicity. Once a year the Grand Street Boys has a golden wedding party at its clubhouse at which couples who have been married over 50 years gather for a celebration, the dinner starting off with a minister, a priest and a rabbi saying grace.

As you can see this is a remarkable organization whose clubhouse motto is "the headquarters of those who really love New York," and the complete story of its success must be an integral part of the history of the life and works of that most estimable gentleman, Judge Jonah Goldstein.

Ship Snatchers' Sweepstakes

Wide World Features

LONDON—Tough salts of the British navy's coastal forces are hoping to give an ancient twist to modern sea war and they are laying heavy bets on who will be able to bring it off first.

Men and officers of the force—which operates small craft ranging from 55 to 150 feet in length on coastal patrols—have worked up a tremendous rivalry as to which crew will manage to creep upon an enemy merchant ship some dark night, board it and bring it back to a British port as a prize of war. Such an exploit would be the first since heavy guns changed the nature of naval combat early in the last century.

Rivalry has grown to such a point, a senior officer of British coastal forces said, that instructions had to be issued that wagers on who would be first to bring in a prize should not interfere with the forces' main purpose of destroying enemy shipping.

Crew of one patrol boat did succeed in a recent operation in boarding an enemy ship and taking a number of the crew prisoners. The ship was then taken in tow but it had been badly damaged in the previous action and sank before it could be taken into a British port.

Near Perpetual Motion

By The Associated Press

PONCA CITY Okla — C J. Hank, who deals in ice cream and candy, has rigged a device on his bicycle that pumps air into a tank; blows a warning whistle; applies an air brake to the rear wheel and enables him to pump up his own tires without resorting to a hand pump or a filling station He says he believes the size of it can be increased so that the air will provide the motive power to operate the bike Perpetual motion stuff!

KILLING TWO WOMEN

Confesses Slaying of Wisconsin Social Workers.

By The Associated Press

SAN MARIA, Calif., Sept. 14—A vivid description of how he killed two Wisconsin social workers was contained in a lengthy confession authorities possessed today from Robert T. Bailey, 23-year-old army deserter.

Thomas Welden, deputy district attorney, said Bailey admitted shooting Miss Neil Pietrangeli, 30, and Dorothy Baun, 32, and leaving their nude bodies near Tomah, Wis., last Monday night, after they had befriended him by giving him a ride at Madison

"After driving down the road, I made both these women get out of the car and take off all their clothing" Bailey's confession to Welden stated.

"At this time, they said, let's call the whole thing off,' and I said, 'no, get going' All they said was it wouldn't do me any good and I told them to get going, and I fired at them.

"The big one (Bailey said he didn't know their names) was a little ahead of the little one from me, and they both fell at the same time when I fired the first time I stood off about five yards and I shot the bigger one in the back while she was standing there

"The little one was grunting and groaning And when she turned over, I shot her I fired three shots altogether I believe the first shot went through the smaller girl and also struck and knocked down the bigger girl ahead of her

"When I shot first, they both fell and the big one never said anything The little one screamed out 'he's killing me, he's killing me!'"

Bailey was arrested Saturday after driving here with two 16-year-old girls he met in Sioux City, Ia., after the killings Bailey was arrested while painting out the white sidewall tires on the car

Sheriff H T Jenkins and District Attorney Leo J. Goodman are enroute here from Sparta, Wis., to take custody of Bailey They hope to return him there for murder trial, "despite federal charges against him

Weldon said Bailey also told him he had intended going to Fort Ord, north of here, to kill his brother, W R Bailey. The prisoner held a grudge against his brother for turning him over to a Mississippi parole officer five years ago, Weldon quoted him as saying.

CIVIL AIR

and Birmingham, Ala., the CAP has given the bomb duckers, the air raid wardens, the auxiliary firemen and police, the first aid station workers and the ambulance drivers something to think about.

THEY have "bombed" the gas lights out of military objectives and ... in these two cities and in both cases the experiment has proved so successful that many cities in danger zones may get a taste of it soon

Details of the "bombing" of Worcester and Birmingham now are being spread on the record here by Maj Earle L. Johnson, national commander of the CAP and under his direction plans are being perfected for giving other strategic cities a taste of what they might expect if the enemy got tough with long range bombers.

In Birmingham, 50 CAP planes of the Alabama Wing, loaded with bags of sawdust bombs (the CAP used two-pound sacks of flour in the first experiments but after they had konked a few civilians on the noggin they switched to sawdust) descended on the city from all directions.

No Flying Fortress raid on Germany or Japan could have been more thoroughly worked out Each pilot working from grilled maps, had his objective and the red sacks (for incendiaries) and the yellow sacks (for demolition bombs) that rained on Birmingham left no doubt in the minds of public and civilian defense workers alike that it could happen here.

War plants were wrecked The homes of workers were blasted in a sawdust shower. One big apartment building was blown half away and the rescue crews evacuated the "dead" and "wounded" Ambulances rushed the latter to first aid stations and hospitals.

FIRE fighting crews battled the "incendiaries."

And according to reports, Birmingham and Worcester got a taste of what it might be like

It's one thing—in a blackout—to turn out the lights and go to bed and forget about it It's quite another to see a yellow bag hurtling into your front yard and realize that if that were a bomb, it would mean an end of life for you and yours. It's something else, too to have a red "incendiary" thud on the roof and realize that if it were real, only your own training and the speedy action of

WIN AWARDS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—War and navy department announcements said today the following Ohio industrial plants have received army-navy production awards for outstanding war work performance: General Motors Corp., Packard Electric division, Warren; Hobart Bros. Co., Troy, and American Rolling Mill Co., plants in Zanesville, Hamilton, Dayton and Middletown (east works and central works.)

HERSHEY SAYS DRAFT NEAR FOR YOUTHS

Married Men with Children Also Face Call.

By The Associated Press

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 14—Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of selective service, thinks the war is getting closer to married men with children and to youths of 18 and 19.

"We can't call a recess in this war until people grow up," General Hershey told New Jersey Legionnaires yesterday, referring to forecasts that the younger men would be drafted soon. "Prospects of a very large mobilization seem in the cards for next year."

He predicted that the manpower needs of global war would result in previously-deferred husbands with dependents and war production workers being called to arms.

"We will have to come to the realization that there are not enough single men, that there are not enough married men without dependents for the mobilization of, say, between ten million and thirteen million in the United States."

On the question of drafting war workers, he said:

"If Hitler landed on the beach now, this afternoon, there would be no question in industrial plants within one thousand miles of here who they could spare for the military services."

General Hershey described criticism of selective service boards throughout the country as unfair, saying they make millions of decisions a month "and there are bound to be a few thousand wrongs." He said the percentage of errors in judgment was "very low."

The selective service director spoke out against short hours and two-week vacations in war industry.

"We can't keep 20,000 men in a plant working short hours or loafing week-ends. There is no maximum in the amount an industrial worker can produce. You soldiers found out that in the last war. We need the spirit of the soldier in producing planes, guns, wheat, corn or what-not."

AFL PLUMBERS URGED TO CHECK INFLATION

Belief That Wages Always Must Rise Called Illogical.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 14 — AFL plumbers and steamfitters today were urged by one of their leaders to abandon "the illogical belief that wages must constantly rise regardless of the consequences."

Assembling for their 24th national convention, plumbers and steamfitters received copies of the union's monthly journal which, in the leading editorial, commented:

"Many of our members are demanding high wages regardless of the ultimate cost to society and themselves. We must be alert to the rising spiral of inflation which is staring us in the face."

Calling for a "full and unreserved program to prevent inflation," the journal added:

"The constant lifting of prices followed by wage demands has placed our economic system in jeopardy. Inflation, if it comes, will destroy just what we have spent years struggling for—a high standard of living."

The publication, edited by Martin P. Durkin of Washington, declared the union must support "a proper and practical method of price control, including agricultural products," and a "reasonable and equitable method of controlling excess profits."

Scheduled convention speakers include AFL President William Green. Nearly 1,100 delegates claiming to represent 106,000 members of the United Association of Journeyman Plumbers and Steamfitters, are attending the convention.

CO-OP HELP OHIOANS SOLVE WAR WORRIES

Farmers Unite To Beat Shortage Problems.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14—Mutual aid programs are helping 11,000 Ohio farm families solve the problem of wartime shortages, A. L. Sorensen, state farm security administration director, reported today.

Small cooperatives, pooling equipment, supplies and services, are getting the farm work done faster, cheaper and better, Sorensen said.

"Farmers are finding that cooperation is just plain horse sense, in war or peace," he added.

Most cooperative action, Sorensen explained, stems from neighborhood meetings where farmers exchange ideas. Frequently these meetings result in formation of cooperatives.

Small farmers usually join established co-ops set up by the Farm Bureau, Grange or Farmers Union, Sorensen said, but when these are not available the families frequently obtain FSA loans to form their own groups.

Sixteen Richland county farmers used profits from the cooperative use of threshing machinery to purchase a corn husker and add other services.

Group purchases of feed, seed, fertilizer and fruit jars totaling some $1,200 within six weeks were made by 46 Noble county farmers to save automobile mileage by eliminating separate trips to town.

An FSA loan was granted four Jackson county farmers to purchase a Hereford sire. They now operate a community sire service. Ashland county has six cooperative bull services and several boar services.

PLEASE DON'T HURT MY LITTLE GIRL

DEAR DRIVER:

Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue anklets. Her Cocker-Spaniel, whose name is "Scoot," sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "goodbye" and started off to the halls of learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her — the girl with the yellow curls — and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head—and about the trees in the school yard—and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things — tremendously vital, unimportant things; then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic — and then to bed.

She's upstairs now — sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's her doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger cut, or her head gets bumped I can fix it — but when she walks across the street then she's in your hands.

She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time — I have to work to pay for her clothes and education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive carefully, please drive slowly past the schools and intersections — and please remember that children do run from behind parked cars.

Please, don't hurt my little girl! —

HOGS HIT LOWEST PRICE SINCE JUNE

Price Ceiling Threat and Heavy Sales Cause.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 — (Wide World)—With the threat of a price ceiling over-hanging trading, hogs this week sank to the lowest levels since mid-June. Arrivals were heavy toward the end of the week, spurring the downturn.

Most of the downturn was attributed by livestock men to the certainty that the office of price administration will place ceilings over quotations. Where these ceilings will be remained problematical, but buyers evidently were attempting to make some sort of adjustment in case they should be under the $15 figure which prevailed throughout nearly all of August.

The OPA has the power to put ceilings at 110 per cent of parity, and hog quotations on the farm on Aug. 15, according to the department of agriculture, were at 128 per cent of parity. Ceilings on hogs were assured, according to OPA announcement, before the President asked congress for additional price legislation. They could become effective prior to enactment of such legislation.

Choice steers were in good demand with best offering hitting $16.75, a new peak since May. All other sections of the cattle market were generally higher, although stock cattle were dull at the close.

Spring lambs rallied with choice westerns touching $14.60 on Thursday and Friday.

Shangri La?

KANSAS CITY—A squad of soldiers at Union Station attempted to buy a railroad ticket to a southern army camp to which they had been ordered to report, but nobody on the railroad ever had heard of the place.

After checking postal guides, maps, the postoffice and telegraph companies, the soldiers finally called The Associated Press. An editor offered to send a message to Washington.

Back came this reply: "Sorry. War Department says location of camp is a military secret."

DINNERS, DANCE ON SOLDIERS' SCHEDULE

Marion Provides Variety of Activities for Service Men.

Soldiers of the 2nd battalion, 333rd Engineers regiment, given leave from camp over the weekend, put aside their army work and were entertained with dancing, dined in homes of Marion residents, wrote letters or read at the Y and made themselves "at home" at the Legion Dugout where the women's service canteen was in operation.

Approximately 60 soldiers attended the second dance arranged for their entertainment by the service canteen Saturday night at the Dugout. Dancing was from 8:30 to 11:30 and refreshments were served. The canteen was open all day Sunday from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. and the men read, played the radio and entertained themselves with music. The Dugout will be open to the soldiers each evening from 6:30 until 11 p. m. with the canteen workers as hostesses. Each of the 17 teams agreed to serve as a hostess group for one evening in addition to the work at the Union station, Mrs. Eugene Willey, head of the canteen service said.

The Marion Amateur Day association, of which Marion Hinklin is president, had more requests for soldiers as Sunday dinner guests than they were able to handle. With furloughs starting among the men in the battalion and others assigned to duties for the day only slightly more than 100 men were available for dinner invitations yesterday.

At the Y.M.C.A. Sunday the facilities of the building were open to the men from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Articles were checked, telephone calls made, games and reading materials were available and many took advantage of the opportunity to write letters.

Two Men Arrested on Disorderly Charge

Nelson W. Furner, 19, of 286 Patterson street and Carter Blanton, 23, of 191 Bellevue avenue were arrested by city police early Sunday morning following an altercation in a North Main street cafe.

Blanton also pleaded guilty to charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct. He was fined $50 and costs.

Capt. E. C. Mackan, acting chief of police in the absence of Chief William E. Marks, said today that Furner struck Patrolman Ed Hoffman while being taken to the courthouse to await arrival of a police cruiser. Patrolman Hoffman and Furner scuffled on the street and a man walking on North Main street at the time helped Patrolman Hoffman to get Furner under control.

Red Cross Volunteer Service Groups Active in Marion Co.

Following are two of a series of articles on the volunteer services of the Marion County Red Cross chapter for which applications will be taken Sept. 14-18 [illegible] North State street. The services are open to [illegible]

* * *

Production

The biggest of the volunteer services of the Marion County Red Cross chapter is the production unit, responsible for the making of surgical dressings, sewed garments and knitted articles.

The chapter recently received a quota of 3,527 sewed garments for refugees and hospitals, to be completed in the next eight months, and a quota of knitted garments for the army termed "staggering."

In addition the chapter this week is beginning to train volunteers in the making of surgical dressings. The St. Mary community house has been donated to the chapter for the training course.

Mrs. John T. McNamara is chairman of production and Miss Alice Hane is co-chairman. Mrs. E. G. Siefert is chairman of knitting and Mrs. Warren Sawyer is chairman of surgical dressings, with Mrs. Richard Lawson as co-chairman.

Mrs. Sawyer recently attended a Red Cross surgical dressing school in Dayton, and this week will begin to train at least 30 women to serve as supervisors when a work room is opened in the near future. Dressings will not be made in the homes of the volunteers.

Each chapter in the country has been assigned a minimum of 20,000 dressings a month and it is anticipated that this will be doubled and tripled within a short time.

The surgeon general of the U. S. army recently made a request for a large supply of dressings and commercial manufacturers have been given large orders. The Red Cross dressings represent the surplus the manufacturers are unable to supply because of lack of machinery.

Following is the assignment of sewed garments which the chapter will be responsible for filling by next June 30:

137 bed shirts; 190 operating gowns; 55 women's dresses; 250 children's heavy pajamas; 48 women's shirts; 162 boys' overalls; 60 snow suits; 360 rompers; 110 women's bed jackets; 55 children's bed jackets; 260 women's blouses; 218 girls' blouses; 200 women's petticoats; 325 women's slips; 360 girls' slips; 55 men's light pajamas; 200 children's light pajamas; 240 girls' nightgowns; 141 boys' light nightshirts; 116 women's light nightgowns; 141 men's light shirts; 72 boys' light shirts.

Mrs. Siefert said the army quota assigned the knitting section is much larger than any knitting quota yet received here. There still is on hand a large supply of yarn for sweaters for refugees and a quantity of yarn for wristlets, helmets and mufflers for men in the army. She is anxious that this work be completed before supplies for the new army quota arrive.

On Mrs. Siefert's committee are Mrs. J. E. Scardline, Mrs. J. M. Gardner, Mrs. Rex Nilhoeln, Mrs. William Lane, Mrs. W. T. Buchanan, Mrs. J. C. Porter, Miss Emma O'Brien, Miss Irene Rubin, and Miss Ann Merenes.

Serving with Mrs. McNamara and Miss Hane are Mrs. Percle Cheney, Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer, Mrs. J. C. Ackerman, Mrs. George Turner, Mrs. Clarence Weber, Miss Maud Gorham, Miss Clara Trefz, Mrs. Marion Clark, Mrs. Francis Huber, Mrs. William Lawler, Mrs. Carl LaMarche, Mrs. T. D. Bash, Mrs. E. W. Koeppen, Mrs. M. C. Richmond, Mrs. J. F. Carlisle, Miss Mary Kull, Mrs. Merle Hamilton, Mrs. J. M. Gardner, Mrs. Siefert and Mrs. James B. Smith.

Home Service Corps

Mrs. Frederick Rea is chairman of the corps, whose members are Mrs. John Waddell, Mrs. John Dowler, Mrs. Henry Mickley, Mrs. Rudy Schuetz, Miss Vivian Hall and Mrs. Rea.

Victory Today, or Boston Loss, Will Give Yanks American League Flag

St. Louis Leads Senior Circuit by One Game; Divide Twin Bill with Phils As Dodgers Lose Two.

By The Associated Press

THE St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers seem to have cooled off in their fight for the National league pennant—and it might be that they've just discovered the New York Yankees are about to clinch the American league pennant.

The National league winner has to take on the Yanks in the world series, and in five of the last six series it has turned out to be about as hazardous as a champagne party.

A victory in Cleveland today or a loss for the Boston Red Sox in Chicago gives the Yanks the [illegible] sixth pennant in seven years.

So the news may have affected the Dodgers and Cardinals accordingly.

Neither Team Eager

Anyway, there were few signs during yesterday's firing that either the collapsible Flatbush follies or the hot-and-cold Cardinals weren't any too eager to get in there with the Yankees.

The Dodgers, after three days of dropping their stitches one at a time, came completely apart at the seams in losing both ends of a doubleheader to Cincinnati, 6-3 and 4-1. It's probably a lucky thing they're able to close for repairs until Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Cards looked somewhat better in splitting a bargain bill with the Philadelphia Phils to take a one-game edge in the race. But with a chance to double that bulge they handed the first game to the Phils, 2-1. They did it, mind you, on a couple of errors with two out in the ninth.

After that, they took the nightcap, 3 to 2, when Terry Moore broke a tie with his fifth homer of the year.

New Error Record

Young Lennie Merullo, the Chicago Cubs' shortstop, set a new record for error making. Apparently excited over becoming a new papa, Lennie fumbled four in one frame of the second game with the Boston Braves, but Chicago managed to hang on for a 12 to 8 triumph. The Braves took the opener, 11 to 6.

The Yankees arrived at the pennant doorstep by mowing down Cleveland, 9-1 and 4-1 behind Red Ruffing and Hank Borowy. The Red Sox also clicked twice over the Chicago White Sox 6-1 and 5-0 with Bill Butland winning his seventh in a row in the first and Tex Hughson collecting his 19th win in the afterpiece.

This left the Bostons in a spot where the one way they can still win the pennant is to take all their remaining games while the Yanks lose all their outings.

Otherwise, the clubs were just playing out the string. The New York Giants knocked over Pittsburgh twice, 5-0 and 5-3; the St. Louis Browns gave Philadelphia Athletics the same medicine, 7-0 and 3-2, and Washington took the first from Detroit, 5-2, but lost the second, 8-0.

India's glass factories have been increased to a total of 101 with a production sufficient to meet more than one-half of the country's requirements.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—It was bound to come what with all these tales of coach-shortages that have appeared since football began making the headlines, and Hal Sayle of the Abilene, Tex., Reporter-News brings the first report of a college player-coach . . . The guy is Arthur Wyne, a 235-pound tackle at McMurry college, who was drafted by head-man Jim Conzer when no line coach could be located . . . Wylie will play his usual 50 or 60 minutes on game days and coach the rest of the week . . . If Art pulls a boner, Sayle suggests there's only one thing for him to do—go to the sidelines, beckon to a sub and say "Go in there at tackle for that thick-headed Wylie."

Service Dept.—Pvt. Jimmy Pierce, Fort Sheridan, Ill., MP who was a good pro middleweight before he joined the army, has tossed out a challenge to Ray Robinson for a fight at Milwaukee . . . Freddie Fierro, Billy Conn's trainer, will join up right after the Conn-Louis fight and is hoping he'll land in Billy's outfit.

* * *

Striking a Hit—First sign of approaching winter is the way bowling news is picking up . . . Now comes a new organization called "700 bowling clubs of America," limited, of course, to pinsters who have rolled a 700 series . . . Founder Fred Lipovetz of La Crosse, Wis., reports it's going over big and a "600" women's auxiliary is being formed . . . How about the "Alley Cats" for us guys who never knock over a pin?

* * *

Odds-and-Ends—Two Chicago Bears' quarterbacks are roaming around the Notre Dame campus. Young Bussey is in the navy V-7 school and Bob Snyder is freshman coach. Both say Frank Leahy doesn't need them as long as he has Angelo Bertelli . . . Lou Nova, back in training on the west coast, has been offered a scrap with Turkey Thompson at Los Angeles but says he'd rather fight Bob Pastor or Billy Conn at the Garden.

Sportpourri—Fritzie Zivic didn't collect a cent for that win over Red Cochrane yet . . . Jimmy Grippo tied up the dough with a suit for $19,500 over a Melio Bettina-Harry Bobo setup he says Fritz was going to promote but didn't . . . First casualty of the Wayne U grid training camp at Charlevoix, Mich., was Photographer Snuffy McGill, who went fishing on a rainy day and received a lacerated thumb in a tangle with a great northern pike. . . . Latest nickname for the Chicago Cardinals—Conzelmaniacs."

Today's Guest Star—Nixson-Denton, Cincinnati Times-Star: "The fact that St. Paul is trying to sell its franchise in the American association should enable local wits to suggest that it's a splendid opportunity for the Reds to get where they belong."

IN FOURTH SERIES

By The Associated Press

BROOKLYN—Lew Riggs of the Dodgers isn't playing regularly, but that isn't worrying the utility third baseman a bit. He's looking forward to his fourth world series. Riggs has been in two with Cincinnati and one with Brooklyn. As a member of the Columbus club, he participated in two little world series.

Kimbrough Stars As Army All-Stars Lose to Packers

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 — It's still a question whether the army all-star football teams, with three decisions in five games against National Pro league clubs, will be able to hold that edge in the remaining three contests but it is a dead sure cinch the pros will have had their fill of John Kimbrough.

Virtually out of the sport for two years except for a few games last season, the Texas A. & M. graduate of 1940 is the September sensation as a member of Maj. Wallace Wade's Western Army All-Stars.

Against the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee yesterday he ran back a kick for 95 yards and a touchdown as his mates went down in defeat, 36 to 21.

It was the second time he went that distance in the four games his soldier mates have played and the third time he reached pay dirt from more than 50 yards out.

In yesterday's defeat he also plunged for another six-pointer and set up a third with his pulverizing.

The loss made the Army's record against pros three wins and two defeats, including the 16 to 0 triumph piled up by Col. Robert Neyland's eastern forces against the New York Giants Saturday.

The Neyland machine takes on the Brooklyn Dodgers at Baltimore Wednesday night before tackling the big bad Bears from Chicago in another charity contest at Boston Sunday. The Westerners' final contest is with the Giants at Syracuse, N. Y., Saturday night.

While the khaki kickers monopolized the spotlight, four pro elevens opened the league season with the Chicago Cards downing the Cleveland Rams at Buffalo, 7 to 0, and the Philadelphia Eagles beating the Pittsburgh Steelers, 24 to 14.

In a game that didn't count in the standings, the Bears roughed up the Washington Redskins in the Capital City, 38 to 14.

UPPER SANDUSKY GRID COACH HOPEFUL

Lost 12 by Graduation But Thinks Prospects Good.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Sept. 14—Now Coach Kenneth L. Sampson was "fairly optimistic" about chances of the Upper Sandusky Rams as they returned to practice today after their week-end holiday. His chief concern is lack of strong reserves.

The graduation last spring of 12 lettermen from last year's unbeaten team left some wide gaps to fill. Five returning lettermen and a bevy of reserves are Coach Sampson's hopes for an aggressive team. The Rams will face Arlington in the opener here on Friday.

Veteran backs will be Tommy Strasser, who will probably call signals from left half, and Leon Stephan, fullback. Bobby Warner, a promising candidate who was knocked out for the season in the first game last year, is expected to get the call for the blocking back position, while Hollandshead, Bowman and Baldauf will see some service behind the line.

Capt. Delbert Barth will be back in the center spot, with Hecker at right guard. Left Guard Snyder may be shifted to tackle.

Day Hurst Stars In Carnegie Tech Practice

Day Hurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Hurst of 483 Vernon Heights boulevard, played a major role as the Carnegie Tech "Greens" crushed a "Reds" team in an intra-squad game Saturday at Pittsburgh.

Hurst, who was a member of last year's N. C. O. championship Harding High school team, intercepted a pass and raced 40 yards to score one of the Greens' four touchdowns in the 26-0 victory. The try for the extra point was blocked but Hurst picked up the ball and sprinted across.

He is enrolled at Carnegie Tech as a freshman. The Steel City university is one of several eastern schools allowing freshmen to play on varsity athletic squads.

Herman Plans To Remain in Organized Baseball

By International News Service

ST. LOUIS—Billy Herman, veteran infielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers, harbors no thought of soon retiring from baseball although he is the National league's oldest second baseman in point of service.

"I intend to keep right on playing as long as my legs can take it," Herman said. His legs, Billy said, are not giving him any serious trouble at present.

Columbus Defeats Kansas City, 2-1, To Even Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Some of the heat that glowed from the American association pennant drive has been carried over to the playoffs, which, like the flag chase itself, may go the full stretch before being decided.

Columbus defeated Kansas City, 2 to 1, yesterday while Toledo nicked Milwaukee, 5 to 3. The 4-of-7 semi-final playoffs thus were squared with each of the four clubs holding two victories.

Columbus' Preacher Roe bested Charley Wensloff in a pitcher's battle, holding the newly-crowned pennant winners to five blows, two of them coming in the fourth for the Blues' only tally.

Wensloff also issued only five hits, but the Red Birds bunched three of them in the second for a pair of runs sparked by singles from the bats of Eddie Lukon and Johnny Antonelli.

Johnny Marcum's eight-hit job and his ability to emerge from trouble, gave the Mud Hens their decision over the Brewers. The Hens chopped away at four Milwaukee hurlers for 19 hits, including Phil Weintraub's four-play blow and a double and Milt Byrnes' triple and two singles.

Fancy Stuff, Plus Speed, Wil Feature Buck's Grid Attack

Punting Is Coach Brown's Chief Worry; Findlay Sta Fails as Punter; Six Games Launch Ohio Football Card This Week-End.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14—A lot of "fancy stuff" accompanied by plenty of speed will feature Ohio State university's grid attacks this fall, Head Coach Paul E. Brown indicated today.

Brown, in disclosing his starting lineup, declared:

"Only three of last year's starters are back, and in the eight spots to be filled we have lost weight but have picked up speed. We'll have a light, fast team—and one that's able to think.

"We won't have the weight to play a rough, tough, bruising type of game, so we'll have to rely on speed and finesse. You'll see plenty of 'fancy' stuff in our attack."

Absence of a punter constitutes Brown's biggest worry. He had counted on Gene Fekete, the sensational sophomore fullback from Findlay, to do the kicking, but the husky fellow has displayed a bit of slowness in getting the boots away.

As a result the Buck mentor has turned the punting chore over to his left ends, starter Dante Lavelli, the Hudson sophomore, and Tom Cleary, sophomore from Cleveland. Cleary started as fullback on the third team, jumped to a second team halfback, and was converted to an end last week. He is the best kicker on the squad.

The Bucks, averaging 191 in the line and 184 in the ball-toting department, were to continue their two-a-day practice sessions this week. They'll drop down to single workouts next week as they taper off for the opener against Fort Knox Sept. 26.

The collegiate season gets under way this week-end with six games, launching the abbreviated 175-game campaign. Last year the state's colleges played 209 contests.

Western Reserve invades Akron for a game with the Zippers Friday night to launch the season, while Saturday brings up tilts between Xavier and Butler at Indianapolis, Wright-Patterson Fields vs Muskingum at New Concord, South Dakota State vs Youngstown at Youngstown, Findlay vs U. of Dayton at Dayton, and Rio Grande vs U. of Louisville at Louisville.

The Buck colleges play 35 fewer games this year as compared with 42 a year ago; play 43 Ohio conference tilts instead of 50; play only 70 games with out-of-state foes instead of 117 as in 1941; stage 29 invasions of foreign fields instead of 61, and play host to only 41 out-of-state squads instead of 56.

Ferrell Faces Possible Banishment from Basebal

By The Associated Press

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 14—Wes Ferrell, the highly [illegible] former American league pitcher headed toward his Carolina home and possible banishment from baseball today.

Ferrell, now managing Lynchburg of the Virginia league, brought his club here yesterday for the playoffs but when Umpire Winston Milam banished a shortstop in the first inning the ex-major leaguer ordered his club off the field and started back home.

C. R. Williams, league president, fined Ferrell $200 and suspended him indefinitely. Williams said that Ferrell would not play any more this season and that he would leave it up to W. G. Bramham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, to determine when Ferrell again might return to organized baseball.

Kenton Coach Scraps Grid Tackling Dummy

Special to The Star

KENTON, Sept. 14—The Kenton Wildcats this year are ignoring the old tackling dummy and concentrating on football pants with real legs in 'em.

Coach D. Ray Baum, arriving here to prep a green team for a difficult schedule, says a boy can not tear into tackle a squirming, pivoting backfield man with his practice on a bag of sawdust hung at end of a rope.

And so, the 'Cats are going through nightly tackling sessions against ball carriers who twist and dodge and back-track. As one tackler misses, another takes up the chase. This provides excellent practice for both linemen and backfield ball carriers, Coach Baum declares.

Make Each Trip Count Conservation Dept. Plea

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14—With the squirrel season due to open Tuesday in 52 central and southern Ohio counties, the state conservation department urges sportsmen to "make each trip count" in order to save tires.

The department suggests a "take along your fishing rod" campaign, so that hunters might combine outdoor activities in a move designed to fill the family larder, to be affected presumably by the proposed meatless days.

Hunters are asked to share transportation, filling every automobile to capacity.

LAVAL ORDERS SLAVE LABOR

[illegible] To Ship Frenchmen To [illegible] in German War Factories.

By The Associated Press

[illegible] Sept. 14—French employers [illegible] ordered to stand by [illegible] crews of workmen [illegible] for shipment to [illegible] under a sweeping [illegible] labor law which the [illegible] government intimated it [illegible] to avert the possibility of [illegible] more stringent action by the Germans.

[illegible] the law are able-bodied [illegible] men between the [illegible] and 50 and unmarried [illegible] women between 21 and [illegible] persons in these categories [illegible] to prove they are [illegible] work "useful to the [illegible] needs" may be drafted [illegible] labors which the [illegible] will judge useful in [illegible] interests of the nation.

Sacrifices for Labor

A semi-official statement said the measure was dictated by "hard necessities, both national and international," and that labor [illegible] be called upon to make some sacrifices, but it recalled that "even more serious measures have been taken in other countries of very recent date."

"The present law," it said, "will permit us to prevent their being extended to us."

This may have been a reference to the action taken by the Germans last week in instituting [illegible] of manpower in the conquered duchy of Luxembourg.

There is no limitation on where persons drafted for labor under the law may be sent, although full details on how it would be applied were not published at once. Still uncertain was the question of how foreigners resident in France would be affected.

Infractions of the law are punishable by prison sentences ranging up to five year and by fines up to 30,000 gold francs. These penalties may be doubled in the case of second offenders.

Promulgation of the decree follows a government campaign to recruit skilled workmen to be sent to Germany in exchange for the release of French war prisoners in a ratio of three workers for one prisoner.

Few Prisoners Returned

Thus far, however, only one [illegible] of "relieved" prisoners has arrived in France.

The absence of the prisoners—estimated at more than 2,250,000—has confronted France with a shortage of labor, particularly in agriculture.

In London, Fighting French sources said the new Vichy decree appeared to be a camouflaged [illegible] under which workers could be sent "collectively" to Germany to work in Nazi war industries.

(These quarters said Pierre Laval, collaborationist chief of government at Vichy, had been obliged to institute a system of forced labor by the "ghastly failure" of his efforts to provide Germany with 300,000 workers on a voluntary basis.)

While withholding details of the bill until its introduction, Barkley said it would embrace farm prices and labor, give the President "all the power he needs," and authorizes him to bring about a general stabilization of farm products and wages."

He said that while "guideposts" would be established for both items, naturally it would be impossible to draft legislation going into minute details of administering such controls."

Barring unforseen developments, Barkley said, congress would be able to have the measure on the statute books by the Oct. 1 deadline set by Mr. Roosevelt.

The senate banking and currency [illegible] went ahead with plans to [illegible] hearings tomorrow. Price Administrator Leon Henderson, Chairman William H. Davis of the national war labor board and Secretary of Agriculture Wickard were to be the first witnesses, followed by Representatives of national farm groups Wednesday.

Landing Attempt On French Coast Reported

By The Associated Press

BERLIN (from German broadcasts), Sept. 14—The high command said today that a British detachment of seven men attempted to land on the French coast east of Cherbourg Saturday night, but their boat was sunk by shellfire and all were killed or captured.

The detachment consisted strangely of five officers, including one from the fighting French navy, according to the German account. Berlin was as silent in construing their mission as the British were on the entire affair.

New Nazi Bomber Is Hitler's Threat To Blast England

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Disclosure that the Nazis have developed three new warplanes for use against the British, including a sub-stratosphere bomber capable of operating from a height of 40,000 feet, lends substance to Berlin's threat last week that Germany is preparing to launch unprecedented air-raids over England.

There's no reason to doubt that this threat accurately describes one of the fuehrer's objectives and that he is getting set for the assault. To my mind, however, that doesn't tell the whole story. Indications are that we also may expect a terrific dog-fight for supremacy of the air over western Europe.

Hitler On Spot

The steadily increasing British and American strength has put the Nazi chief on the spot. The Anglo-Yankee combination already holds superiority (though not "supremacy") in the air, and he must answer this allied challenge to domination—for two reasons:

1. His vital industrial centers are being devastated systematically by royal air force and American bombing on a big scale. Moreover, his rail transport is being cut to pieces. That's a bad combination.

2. If Hitler is to protect himself against a land invasion of western Europe, he must control the air, just as the allies must control it if they are to put an expeditionary army ashore. He certainly doesn't dominate it now, and Major General Carl Spaatz, commander of U. S. army air forces in Europe, declares our flying fortresses are the key to aerial mastery.

For long weeks now Hitler has stood by in apparent meekness and seen his resources disappear in the deluge of allied bombs, he has seen some of his proudest cities all but wiped out. But his meekness has been seeming and not real, for there's nothing meek about this man who would be emperor of all mankind.

All Strength in Russia

The cold fact is that Hitler has had to use virtually every available warplane in his efforts to subdue the Reds.

However, approaching winter will see a slackening of the fighting in the Caucasus, and Hitler will be able to release planes for operations elsewhere. He also will have recently manufactured machines ready for action. Besides the sub-stratosphere bomber, these include a four-motored Heinkel 177 which carries eight tons of bombs—the equal of Britain's biggest planes—and the Focke-Wulf 190, a fast, bomb-carrying fighter.

All this should provide a mighty surge for Uncle Sam's builders of warplanes. Our production is far short of capacity, and it's imperative that a steady stream of bombers and fighters be kept pouring into our bases in the British isles. It's vital that the allies win absolute supremacy over western Europe if we are to establish that second front and get ahead with the job of beating the Nazis.

Our task of production is all the greater because our air-fleet now is in action in all sectors of this global war. The number of planes we produce between now and spring will have much to do with the length of time it will take to crush the enemy.

SEN. BYRD PROPOSES COMPULSORY SAVING

Declares Plan Woud Yield Full Treasury Tax Goal.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—A program linking compulsory savings with the enactment of a two-year revenue bill that would yield the treasury's full goal of $8,700,000,000 annually in new taxes was advanced by Senator Byrd (D-Va) today as the senate finance committee neared the end of its job of rewriting the house tax bill.

Expressing dissatisfaction with both the terms and the yield of the pending measure, Byrd told reporters he thought the committee should adopt a sales levy and change other rate schedules to create a tax structure that would last at least two years and produce upwards of $26,000,000,000 in direct annual revenue.

Legislation also should be enacted to compel the public to buy government bonds in order to provide the financing needed to keep the war program running at full blast, he asserted.

ESCAPED LIFER MAY GO FREE

Eighteen years ago Osmund Wesgate escaped from Illinois penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence. Recently he made application at a New York war plant for employment and he went through a routine fingerprinting. The F.B.I. learned his true identity and promptly arrested him. Upon learning that he had lived the intervening 18 years as an honest citizen and was happily married, Governor Dwight Green of Illinois refused to sign the extradition papers and the New York district attorney has stated that no action will be taken unless the governer orders it. LEND-LEASE

Russia is a battlefield and Brittain an offensive base."

Must Have Equipment

The Chief Executive asserted that as American men moved overseas to battle "they must and will have sufficient quantities of the best equipment the United States can produce." At the same time "we must provide more weapons to the armies of our allies already in the fighting lines," he added.

"Britain has been fighting the Nazis for three years, China is in her sixth year of war, and in Russia the war's greatest land front is more than a year old," he declared. "From the beginning they have carried on without enough guns or planes. It is through their uphill fight that the war has not been lost.

"Only by strengthening our allies and combining their strength with ours can we surely win."

The report said lend-lease funds were now being spent for many special projects, including further tests of the "seamobile," shallow draft cargo vessel originally known as the "Sea Otter," and for saving shipping space and refrigeration capacity by the development of dehydrated foodstuffs.

Work for U. S.

To show that lend-lease is not entirely a one-way proposition, the report said that in Great Britain 250,000 British workmen were engaged in construction for the American army in July alone.

In addition, British guns and camps, aircraft and military stores have been turned over to United States expeditionary forces and reciprocal aid is being furnished American troops in Australia, New Zealand and by the "Fighting French" in equatorial Africa and New Caledonia.

Of the $6,480,000,000 aid furnished by the United States thus far, $5,120,000,000 represented goods transferred and services rendered while $1,360,000,000 was the value of goods "in process."

During August, military items comprised about 50 per cent of total transfers, industrial materials 20 per cent, and foodstuffs 13 per cent.

Nelson Says Production Still Below Needs

By The Associated Press

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 14—Donald M. Nelson, war production board chairman, says that although this nation's war production has been stepped up 350 per cent since Pearl Harbor it is not yet "good enough."

"We have not won this war," he said. "We are not even winning it—yet. In this game there is no second prize. We are playing it for keeps."

Nelson spoke last night over the NBC network as a guest of the labor-management committee of RCA-Victor here in an address directed at 3,500,000 workers enrolled in labor-management committees in 1,500 plants.

The WPB chairman praised the nation's war production effort, and added "that the fighters with the best industrial system behind them will win."

A year ago on August 22 he fell and broke his leg.

This year, on the same date, these things happened to him:

He broke the same leg, the left one, in the same spot as he attempted to aid a motorist push his stalled car.

He lost his wallet containing several dollars.

Five of his rabbits escaped.

rounding communities is invited to attend the rally.

Victory Auction

Another feature of the stadium rally will be a "victory auction" of merchandise offered by Marion retail merchants. The merchandise will be free to the highest bidder of war bonds in denominations of $25, $50, $75 and $100.

Whatever the bid, that amount will be given in war bonds. If the bid is $100, and is the highest offer, the bidder will receive that amount in bonds and the merchandise will be free.

L. M. Wickersham will be the auctioneer and the stars will present the merchandise to the successful bidders. If it is something that can be autographed, the stars will add their signatures.

Stadium crowds will get the first opportunity to bid. After that the WMRN radio audience, by telephone, will have one minute to raise the bid. The stadium phones will be Nos. 1682 and 1683.

The auction will be either cash or pledges. Members of the Lions club will take the bids. On Wednesday the signed pledges may be exchanged for a bond at any bank, the federal loans or the postoffice. Merchandise will be held until the bond is issued on Wednesday.

Special arrangements have been made whereby persons who cannot attend may telephone their bond orders direct to the stars at the stadium.

The stars will be the feature attraction on a two-hour program. Mr. Planck, J. J. Huebner and Wilson Tway attended the rally yesterday in Canton. They originally intended to visit the Akron rally but it was postponed until tonight and Tuesday morning.

Program on Square

The program was staged on the public square and drew a "mob" of people, Mr. Planck said. Miss Massey sang the national anthem and gave an appealing message and both Astaire and Herbert talked.

Mrs. Astaire is traveling with the trio. The Astaires were married in 1933 and have a 4-year-old son, Fred Jr. They live quietly in their Beverly Hills home and their participation in the night life of the film colony is practically nil, according to Astaire's biographer. Fred is a firm believer in the principle that his private life is just what the name implies—private.

Treasury department citations to several Canton industries were presented to company officials by the stars, acting as agents of the department.

RAILS IN MILD RECOVERY TURN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—Rails took a mild turn on the recovery side of today's stock market but many leaders remained notably apathetic.

The list exhibited an indifferent appearance and, with the exception of sizable blocks of low-priced issues, dealings were slow. Advances outnumbered declines. Numerous pivotals opened late and a wide assortment was unchanged.

The question of taxes and cost-of-living brakes, brokers suggested, tended to keep bullish forces more or less subdued. Inspiration from the war news was lacking.

Among stocks International Telephone was a lively performer, edging into new high ground since 1941. U. S. Distributing preferred jumped to a new top.

Attracting intermittent support were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Western Union, Anaconda and Pittsburgh Coal. Falterers were Goodyear, Montgomery Ward and Westinghouse.

Attention was paid the compilation of the national bureau of economic research which forecast that federal taxation in the fiscal year of 1943 should reach $40,000,000,000 if inflation was to be avoided.

WHEAT, RYE PRICES RISE AGAIN TODAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 14 — Wheat and rye futures touched highs not reached since mid-July, showing gains of 2 and more than 3 cents respectively, as buying expanded in the grain market today.

Washington reports indicating anti-inflation legislation may authorize the President to limit farm prices to parity or highest levels reached this year and may provide a definite floor stimulated buying of cereals, traders said, because grain prices are well below parity.

Blood Pressure

Although I am frequently asked to say something about low blood pressure, I have been compelled to refrain because there has been nothing to say. Lately, however, a simple treatment for certain forms of low blood pressure has been proved successful, so I will discuss it today.

Blood pressure is measured by encircling the arm with a rubber bag attached to a column of pressure column. When the arm band is inflated until the pressure just obliterates the pulse, the height of the mercury column measures the blood pressure.

Taking the pressures of many thousands of people, it has been found on the average to be 120 millimeters of mercury, recorded as 120. This is the systolic pressure, or the pressure in the arteries when the heart contracts. The diastolic pressure — when the heart is resting — can also be measured, and [illegible] 80, a diastolic pressure of 90 is high, and of 100, very high. The upper limit of a normal systolic pressure is now [illegible] to be 150.

These averages are, however, quite arbitrary. One out of every three persons over the age of 45 has a blood pressure of 150 or over. It is almost normal rather than a disease in that age period. Of the other 66 persons per 100 in that age period, about 25 have pressures from 120 to 140, about 30 have pressures from 110 to 120 and the rest are below 110.

The ideal blood pressure (not the average) is 110. This is the judgment of a physician who studied a large group of people, also inquiring into their activities. He concluded that at any age the ones who felt best were the most active, experienced the least fatigue and accomplished the most and the most work, and had a pressure around 110. At any rate 110 must not be considered "low" blood pressure.

Most of the people who have a lower blood pressure than that are unaware of it. It produces no symptoms. They live longer on the average. It is often associated with underweight, a thin linear "asthenic" type of body build with the drooping of the stomach and intestines, and such symptoms as the patient has can be as well ascribed to the general bodily inadequacy as to the incidental low blood pressure.

A special type of low blood pressure is postural—the person who has this is uncomfortable when he gets on his feet because in the erect position the blood pressure falls to very low levels. So he is likely to be dizzy and weak in the morning when he first gets up. In the course of the day this wears off and his blood pressure apparatus makes adjustments.

A good treatment for this condition has been developed by Drs. MacLean and Allen, at the Mayo Clinic. This is the "headup" bed. The head of the bed is elevated 18 inches (start with 6 inches) and the patient sleeps and rests in this position. The position prevents that loss of postural adaptation that the patient gained in the daytime. It is, in most cases, the only treatment needed.

"I'll do that, sir," Dicky answered, then turned to me with a grin which I knew was intended as a tonic for my frayed nerves.

"Put on your old gray bonnet," he chanted, "pack whatever you need, and we'll be on our way."

"I don't need to pack anything," I told him, putting on my hat. "My bags are there, just as I brought them in."

"Then, let's go," he said. He picked up the small bags and hurried me to the elevator. When we reached the outer door he waited for a taxicab whose driver I knew was linked with my father's organization.

"It really doesn't matter whether we're followed," Dicky said, when we were in the cab. "But I'd like to be sure we get to the Underwoods intact instead of in pieces," he added, in a futile effort to relieve by idle chatter my mounting anxiety over what Carolyn might have done since we [illegible].
